Moraine Winery

From its shelf-like location above striking clay bluffs, family-owned Moraine Winery peers over the landscape and water.

AMBER PRATT- WINEMAKER

0 CASES ANNUALLY
VINEYARD FARMED: 0 ACRES
VINEYARD OWNED: 0 ACRES

@MORAINEWINERY
@MORAINEESTATEWINERY

NEED EMAIL
NEED EMAIL
MORAINEWINERY.COM

1865 NARAMATA RD, PENTICTON, BC
V2A 8T9, CANADA
236-422-3534

Our name, Moraine, is derived from the geological term for the glaciated white clay buffs that comprise the breathtaking Naramata Bench. Also known as "boulder clay", Moraine is a deposit of clay which is formed beneath glaciers and ice-sheets during the Glacial Period in North America, specifically, in the Okanagan Valley as we know it today. In result, these glaciated white clay cliffs comprise the wondrous Naramata Bench and inspire the winery's land-formed name.